

Philadelphia Pathwork Studies Program Presents:
A One Day Workshop
Saturday, June 26

“I’m gonna MAKE YOU give it to me!!!
Yeah!!”

Where are you still dependent on others to give you your life? Where are you still waiting for your life to happen based on what others can do for you, give it to you etc.? So...how’s that working for you...Are they giving it to you? So, let’s find those places where you feel unsuccessful, and dependent on someone else to make things happen for you...and let’s go for the cure...express the anger and the frustrations and disappointments that they won’t give it to you, and find the inner healing that leads to personal growth into the real self.

“Only when you can lose on the ego-level can you win on the level of the real self, where the power is to create a good life. Conversely, your inability to give up, to be fair, to let others free, your insistence to win and have your way, and your refusal to lose on the ego-level make it impossible for you to win where it counts and where you would find your real strength.”
