

Philadelphia Pathwork Studies Program Presents:

A One-Day Workshop

WHERE MAY THERE BE A MASK, A FALSEHOOD?

WHAT IS MY LOWER SELF?

WHAT IS MY HIGHER SELF?

WHAT IS THE ACTUAL ME?

Ever felt confused about who you are?

Aware of the part that pretends?

The part that feels dark and icky that brings up shame?

How about your divine self-where love, wisdom and compassion reside?

"GETTING TO KNOW YOURSELF"

Higher Self, Lower Self and Mask

Saturday October 24, 2009

"The aim of spiritual development is to eliminate the lower self so that the higher self becomes free again of all outer layers it has acquired" PGL #14

Come to a one-day intro pathwork workshop, where in a safe setting you will have the opportunity to meet and explore with curiosity and compassion the part that pretends (the mask), that part that frightens so we hide (the lower self) and the part that guides with love and wisdom (the higher self).

Part of the unique gift of this spiritual path is that it honors all parts of you and has developed ways to acknowledge, be with and transform those parts that separate us from our divine selves and from God.
